Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

We went over to look at Webb Pierce's Bonneville Pontiac yesterday morning. Started taking some notes on all the gadgets Webb had on the car, and out bounds his manager to cooperate.

He unlocked the car and let us feel the tooled leather upholstery, the silver dollars which decorate the inside and the six-shooters all over the place.

An entertainer is not like most people. He WANTS to be seen and NOTICED.

That's ok, that's his business.

The older we get the more content we are that what a fellow does is his own business, as long as it does not infringe on the rights of others.

If a fellow wants to put sugar on tomatoes, all right. If he wants to put salt on cantaloupe, OK. If he wants cream and sugar, either one or neither, in his coffee, that's all right too.

People are different. They have their own lives to live, different people to answer to and for.

Live and let live, that's our motto. Grow a beard if you want to.

We don't know much about the fashion business, especially women's fashions, but we would take an off hand chance and bet that it was a man designer who thought of the controversial topless swim suits for women.

What's your thinking on socialized medicine? Well the clipping that John Neuhouser of Chicago sent us mentioned that too. A congressman in Illinois mailed out a questionnaire to see how his constituents felt on various issues and socialized medicine was one of them.

Here is the question. Do you favor medical assistance for the aged through present state administered Kerr-Mills program providing hospital and medical care to needy citizens over 65? 48.1 per cent said yes; 31.4 per cent said no and 20.5 per cent were undecided.

Same question but with the King-Anderson bill providing hospitalization insurance funded by Social Security taxes for anyone over 65, 28.0 per cent said yes, 54.5 per cent said no and 17.5 per cent were undecided.

Same question but with the Bow bill permitting tax credits up to $150 per year for costs of purchasing private health insurance. On this one 51.8 per cent said yes; 26.7 per cent said no and 21.5 per cent were undecided.

Folks are pretty sharp about the various issues.

Reading the newspapers is a good way to get information so you can arrive at an intelligent opinion.

A person does not have to believe everything he reads, but he can at least get other folk's opinions and can arrive at his own more easily.

The Elephant Ear has four big leaves.

Well we are on the second go round on the bird raising. All the nests in the yard are full up again.

The first crop of birds are on their own now and many of them have scattered.

As far as we know the cat didn't get a single one which is something of a record.

SORORITY MEETS

All Woodmen Circle members between the ages of 16 and 22 are invited to attend and members are privileged to bring special friends Sunday afternoon and evening.

Sweeping Civil Rights Bill To Become Law By July 4

By FRANK FLEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON 20P — The most sweeping civil rights bill since the Reconstruction era, passed by the Senate after the longest battle in its history, will be the law of the land by the Fourth of July.

That was the promise of House leaders today as they cranked up legislative machinery to send the bill to the White House not later than July 2 or 3.

The Senate bill will be received by the House Monday at 11 a.m. EDT. Because the Senate version of the measure is, in effect, a lengthy amendment to the House-passed rights bill, the House must now vote to accept or reject the Senate's changes.

One cloud on the bill's horizon is a long-simmering political feud in the House which still is unresolved. The dispute centers on a Republican promise to help clear roadblocks for quick House approval if the Democrats agree to a pre-convention recess on July 3. No such agreement has been reached as yet, but House leaders — without disclosing — indicated they expected no trouble.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., and William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, the authors of the bill that passed the House Feb. 10, said that not all the changes made by the Senate during its 83 days of debate were to their liking.

Urges House Acceptance
"However, we believe that none of the amendments do serious violence to the purpose of the bill," they said in a joint statement urging acceptance.

House acceptance of the Senate amendments, Speaker John W. McCormack D-Mass., hailing the Senate's action as a major new step toward equality under law, signaled for the first possible House action to concur with the Senate changes and ready the bill for signature by President Johnson.

The bill passed by the Senate on a 73 to 27 roll call vote Friday night after a historic debate gives the federal government vast powers, unequalled since the Civil War almost a century ago. It aims at erasing racial discrimination in voting, schools, employment, federal aid programs and in access to public accommodations and many private businesses open to the public.

It has been in the legislative mill for a year. It was proposed by the late President John F. Kennedy on June 19, 1963, then embraced and pushed to passage by his successor, President Johnson. Although Republican leaders in both the House and Senate played a key role in its passage, it was assailed as unconstitutional by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who voted against it.

IN PEACE-MAKING ROLE — The Greek and Turkish premiers are scheduled for White House meetings in the interest of Cyprus peace. President Johnson on June 22-23, President Papandreu of Greece on June 24-25. President Johnson's peace-making talks will be backed up by the presence of the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. Johnson considers war between Greece and Turkey, both NATO members, something that just cannot be permitted to happen.

Hoyt McCallion Is Burned By Fumes

By FRANK FLEAZER
United Press International

Acid fumes inhaled by Hoyt McCallion burned his mouth, nose and throat Thursday when he accidentally inhaled fumes from an acid solution he was using to clean and disinfect milk tanks on his dairy farm.

Mr. McCallion was placed in the hospital on Thursday night and given oxygen.

X-rays have been taken to try and assess any damage the fumes might have caused. He is reported to be in satisfactory condition at this time.

Fishing Is Expected To Cool This Week

By FRANK FLEAZER
United Press International

FRANKFORT, Ky. 20P — Unsettled weather conditions of the past several days, combined with increasingly hot weather, is expected to cool off fishing prospects in Kentucky this weekend.

The state Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources said in its weekend survey of the state's major waterways that the popularity of fishing is expected to be in the most active to anglers.

Kentucky Lake — White bass are the most active species and are taking minnows in the bridge area. Some black bass are taking surface lures in the early morning. Crappie and bluegill are listed as fair on minnows and worms at 12 feet. Below the dam — Catfishing is good on live and cut bait in the boils. White bass, crappie and sauger fishing is fair with most success reported by using doilies.

EARLY START
WASHINGTON 20P — About 65 percent of all women are married by the time they are 21, according to the population reference bureau here.

In 1961, 12 per cent of the women in college were married (162,000) and almost half that were married.

Edward Kennedy's Back Broken, Two Are Killed In Crash Of Airplane

By REID MORRISON
United Press International

SOUTHAMPTON, Mass. 20P — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy suffered a broken back and two other men were killed when a light plane crashed Friday night in dense fog in an apple orchard.

Kennedy was in fair condition at Cooley-Dickinson Hospital in Northampton.

Doctors said, "There are no head injuries and no neurological findings. He has complete use of his legs and hands."

Sen. Birch Dayh, D-Ind., and his wife, Marvella, who also were aboard the plane enroute to the Massachusetts Democratic convention, were less seriously hurt. They were reported doing "extremely well."

Dr. Thomas Corriden, senior surgeon, said the 32-year-old Kennedy "has improved considerably since admission and is resting comfortably. X-rays . . . show he has fractures of the fifth and sixth ribs on the left side and fractures of the second, third and fourth lumbar vertebrae."

"The lumbar vertebrae are the lower back. He also has fractures of the second, third and fourth transverse processes. These are out-touchings of the spine which give it support. . . . He has cuts and bruises on his legs and a cut on his right hand."

The election was held to nominate five persons for the 1st District's representative on the state Conservation Commission, from which list Gov. Edward T. Breathitt will select the commissioners.

In the voting, which followed a spirited debate, Boyce McElya of Paducah defeated incumbent district commissioner Tom Baker of Cadiz, 357 to 356.

Any resident of the 13-county district holding a hunting or fishing license was eligible to vote. The meeting had to be moved from the Marshall County Courthouse to the gymnasium to take care of the crowd.

The vote was construed as an expression of dissatisfaction of the policies of state Fish and Wildlife Resources Commissioner Minor Clark.

During the likely campaigning that preceded the meeting, the members of the "rebel" faction accused the Baker state of promising residents of Lyon and Trigg counties that Baker would seek to prevent the Tennessee Valley Authority from taking land for the Between the Lakes National Recreation area, when actually he would have no control over the matter.

Kennedy In Fair Condition Following Light Plane Crash

By REID MORRISON
United Press International

SOUTHAMPTON, Mass. 20P — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy suffered a broken back and two other men were killed when a light plane crashed Friday night in dense fog in an apple orchard.

Kennedy was in fair condition at Cooley-Dickinson Hospital in Northampton.

Doctors said, "There are no head injuries and no neurological findings. He has complete use of his legs and hands."

Sen. Birch Dayh, D-Ind., and his wife, Marvella, who also were aboard the plane enroute to the Massachusetts Democratic convention, were less seriously hurt. They were reported doing "extremely well."

Dr. Thomas Corriden, senior surgeon, said the 32-year-old Kennedy "has improved considerably since admission and is resting comfortably. X-rays . . . show he has fractures of the fifth and sixth ribs on the left side and fractures of the second, third and fourth lumbar vertebrae."

"The lumbar vertebrae are the lower back. He also has fractures of the second, third and fourth transverse processes. These are out-touchings of the spine which give it support. . . . He has cuts and bruises on his legs and a cut on his right hand."

Die In Crash

Edward Moss of Andover, 41 year old father of three and Kennedy's close friend and aide, died at the hospital of massive brain injuries about seven hours after the accident. The pilot, Edwin T. Zimny, 48, of Lawrence, Mass., died in the crash of the two-engine plane, which was flying from Washington to Westfield, Mass.

Bayh had multiple cuts and an injured right hip. Mrs. Bayh complained of a back pain.

Officials said Moss also suffered multiple fractures of the right leg and right arm. He often was described as "the senator's Dave Powers," the latter having been the ever-present confidant to the late President Kennedy.

The Violent Deaths

The plane crash occurred less than seven months after the senator's brother, President Kennedy, was assassinated by a sniper's bullet in Dallas. Two other members of the Kennedy family, an older brother, Joseph, and a sister, Kathleen, died in separate plane crashes.

Family Visits
Several members of the Kennedy family visited the senator at his hospital bedside. Among them was Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sen. Kennedy, who earlier had been described as in a state of semi-consciousness, recognized his brother. "How are you, Bobby?" he asked.

Edward Martin, the senator's press secretary, said at 5:45 a.m. EDT — more than five hours after the crash — that Kennedy "is comfortable now and somewhat improved. He is in fair condition."

"The senator is under some sedation," Martin said.

Martin said Bayh and his wife were in "good condition."

Martin said the apparent time of the crash were between 10:55 p.m. and 11:05 p.m. Friday night while the plane was headed for Barnes Airport in nearby Westfield.

From there, Martin said, Kennedy was to pick up his wife at a private home where she was waiting and then go by car to the convention at West Springfield.

The plane skinned into three or four trees on Walter Badista's apple farm in this western Massachusetts community.

The plane crumbled. The right wing was nearly ripped off. The cockpit was peeled off and the nose was smashed in.

A visitor to Kennedy's hospital bedside early today said the senator was in a "state of semi-consciousness." However, a hospital spokesman said his condition was fair to good.

Rush to Hospital

The crash occurred less than seven months after the senator's brother, the late President Kennedy, was assassinated by a sniper's bullet in Dallas.

The 32-year-old Kennedy, carried into the hospital on a stretcher, suffered chest, arm and face injuries. The 36-year-old Bayh and his wife were bruised and shaken.

The crash was the latest in a chain of tragedies and near tragedies in the Kennedy family. The oldest brother was killed in combat in World War II and a sister was killed in a plane crash shortly after her husband died in the war.

The father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who suffered a stroke in 1962, is partially paralyzed.

Thrown from Plane
Sen. Kennedy apparently was thrown out of the plane. James Fess, 21, one of the first persons to arrive at the crash scene, said Kennedy was "on the ground, semi-conscious."

Both Democrats and Republicans were holding pre-primary conventions. The Democratic convention adjourned in stunned silence after the crash.

A few hours earlier Kennedy and Bayh had talked to the Democratic convention by telephone because their departure from Washington was delayed by the Senate vote on the civil rights bill.

The convention had been expected to endorse Kennedy by acclamation.

Meeting Called Monday Night On Districts

By FRANK FLEAZER
United Press International

An educational meeting on rural water districts will be held on Monday night at 7:30 at the courthouse according to S. V. Foy, County Agent. These water districts have as their aim the placing of running water in rural areas. Foy said, and are set up on the same procedure as REA and RTA.

A petition is out now for a water district which will extend out the New Concord highway to Hicks Cemetery, out the Green Plains Road to the church, then to U. S. 641 and back north to the Clark's River.

Mr. Foy urged that all residents living on the Lynn Grove highway, the Oakwater road, the Kirtsey road and Kirtsey community, to attend this meeting to see what steps are followed in order to set up the water district.

Representatives from Hannan & Associates of Paducah, engineers, and Marcel Vinson of the State Department of Agriculture, will be present to discuss water districts and to answer any question which may arise.

Baltimore Orioles Can Start Printing The Tickets If Adage On Close Ones Holds True

By CURT BLOCK

UPI Sports Writer

The team that wins the close generally winds up in the World Series, and if that holds true again the Baltimore Orioles can start printing tickets.

The Yankees used to hold the patent on winning one-run games, capitalizing on opponents' mistakes and playing baseball in October, but former New York outfielder Frank Baum seems to have passed that along some of the Yankees' secrets to his young Orioles.

In their first 62 games the Orioles have been involved in 20 contests decided by a single run and 18 of them they've won.

They vaulted back into first place in the six-team American League race
Friday night with two such victories,
2-1 and 6-5, over the Boston Red Sox.

Win Was Gift

The opening game victory was a gift, coming when Eddie Bressoud threw a double play ball into the outfield in the sixth inning.

Norm Siebern opened the frame walking on a 3-2 pitch which Boston skipper Johnny Pesky disagreed with an ultimately caused his ejection from the game.

Brooks Robinson then bounced
a high hopper toward Bressoud when the Red Sox shortstop grabbed and lobbed over the second baseman's head into right field.
When the ball was recovered the Birds had men perched on second and third.

John Orsino brought one home with a sacrifice fly and Boog Powell accounted for the winning tally.

The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the New York Mets twice, 2-1
and 7-2; St. Louis downed San Francisco 3-1. Cincinnati mauled
Los Angeles 11-1. Houston beat Milwaukee 9-7, and Chicago was rained
out at Pittsburgh in Friday's National League action.

The Twins used their favorite weapon, the home run, to stop Detroit. Tony Oliva, Zoilo Versalles,
Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew
connected as Gerry Arrigo pitched his fourth win in five decisions. For Killebrew it was number 21 to give him the major league lead by one over Willie Mays.

Colavito Homer

Mel McGaha made his first appearance before the home town fans
with a winning effort thanks to Rocky Colavito's 19th homer off Washington loser Bennie Daniels. The A's

have won seven of their last eight
and are 7-3 since McGaha took the reins from Ed Poteet last week.

Wes Stock, recently obtained from Baltimore got credit for the win,
his third of the year and 11th in a row dating back to the 1962 season.
He helped his own cause with a base hit and an RBI in the sixth which probably delighted the 30-year-old right-hander more than the victory
because it was his first major league hit after going 0-for 41.

Catcher Bob Ridgers scored the Angels winning run after tripping
for the wall in right center. Bobby Knop brought him in with a game-winning single. Bob Daulton working in relief gained his third triumph
without a setback.

Larry Brown's seventh homer of the year accounted for the Indians'
only run.

The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the New York Mets twice, 2-1
and 7-2; St. Louis downed San Francisco 3-1. Cincinnati mauled
Los Angeles 11-1. Houston beat Milwaukee 9-7, and Chicago was rained

Mel McGaha made his first appearance before the home town fans
with a winning effort thanks to Rocky Colavito's 19th homer off Washington loser Bennie Daniels. The A's

have won seven of their last eight
and are 7-3 since McGaha took the reins from Ed Poteet last week.

Wes Stock, recently obtained from Baltimore got credit for the win,
his third of the year and 11th in a
row dating back to the 1962 season.
He helped his own cause with a base
hit and an RBI in the sixth which
probably delighted the 30-year-old
right-hander more than the victory
because it was his first major league hit after going 0-for 41.

Catcher Bob Ridgers scored the Angels winning run after tripping
for the wall in right center. Bobby Knop brought him in with a game-
winning single. Bob Daulton working
in relief gained his third triumph
without a setback.

Larry Brown's seventh homer of the year accounted for the Indians'
only run.

The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the New York Mets twice, 2-1
and 7-2; St. Louis downed San Francisco 3-1. Cincinnati mauled
Los Angeles 11-1. Houston beat Milwaukee 9-7, and Chicago was rained
out at Pittsburgh in Friday's National League action.

The Twins used their favorite
weapon, the home run, to stop Detroit. Tony Oliva, Zoilo Versalles,
Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew
connected as Gerry Arrigo pitched his fourth win in five decisions. For Killebrew it was number 21 to give him the major league lead by one
over Willie Mays.

Philadelphia Phillies May Just Make One Of Gene Mauch's Dreams Of The Future Come True

By MILTON RICHMAN

UPI Sports Writer

Gene Mauch has his heart dead set on three ideals.

He wants to dance at his daughter's wedding, get into a World Series at least once in his life and go to heaven when he dies.

Those are the only three things he says he wants and the Philadelphia Phillies appear on their way toward making at least one of their manager's dreams come true.

They have won seven of their last eight games and hallooed their National League lead to 2 1/2 games, their biggest margin yet, by sweeping the New York Mets, 2-1 and 7-2, in Friday night's two-night doubleheader.

When and if the 38-year-old Mauch does get into a World Series with his Phils, he should and probably will, extend a heartfelt vote of thanks to his general manager, John Quinn, for helping to make it all possible.

Play Top Roles

Two players Quinn obtained in separate deals with the Chicago White Sox—outfielder John Callison and first baseman Roy Sievers —played prominent roles in Friday night's two victories over the Mets, who now have lost eight in a row.

Callison's eighth home run of the season with one on in the sixth inning proved to be the Phils' margin of victory, although it represented only a small part of his night's work.

Callison also had a triple, a single,
a walk and a stolen base in the opening as well as a pair of singles in the nightcap. Sievers accounted for three runs in the finale with a two-run homer and a double.

Art Mahaffey recorded his seventh win in the first game although Ed Roebuck had to come in from the bullpen and get the last man out, Larry Bearnarth 4-4 was the loser after relieving starter Carl Walley with the score tied in the sixth inning. Ray Culp held the Mets to five hits in the nightcap for his third triumph.

The St. Louis Cardinals ran their winning streak to four games with a 3-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants, while the Cincinnati Reds crushed the Los Angeles Dodgers 11-1, and the Houston Colts came from behind to defeat the Milwaukee Braves, 9-7. Rain washed out the game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs.

In the American League, the Baltimore Orioles reclaimed first place with a 2-1 and 6-5 sweep of the Boston Red Sox. The Minnesota
Twins edged the Detroit Tigers, 7-6. The Kansas City A's downed the Washington Senators 5-4, and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Cleveland Indians 2-1. The New York Yankees Chicago White Sox game was postponed.

Julian Javier, the Cardinals' ordinary light-hitting second baseman, wrecked the Giants for the second straight night, Friday night, it was his eighth homer with one on that proved to be the margin for Bob Gibson's sixth victory, Jim Davenport's homer produced San Francisco's lone run. Ron Herbel
4-3 was charged with the loss.

John Edwards drove in four runs for the Reds as they hammered three Dodger pitchers for 14 hits, including homers by Vada Pinson and Chico Cardenas. Winner Jim Maloney 5-7 struck out 11 men and reliever Billy McCall four more for a total of 15. Joe Mauer absorbed his fourth setback in 10 decisions.

Newly-acquired Joe Gimes touched off a six-run rally for the Colts in the eighth inning that enabled them to overtake the Braves. Gimes belied his first homer of the season off Dan Schneider, making his first start for Milwaukee, but the loser was Jack Smith, who relieved Schneider and was pounded for four more runs in two-thirds of an inning. Hal Woodeshick, Houston's fourth pitcher, posted his second win against five losses. Lee Maye and Frank Bolling homered for the Braves.

Callison's eighth home run of the season with one on in the sixth

Schneider, making his first Milwaukee, but the loser Smith, who relieved Schneider, was pummeled for four in two-thirds of an inning. Woodchuck, Houston's pitcher, posted his second five losses. Lee, Maye and Bolling homered for the

Dear Abby . . .

Opposite Views!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: We are celebrating FATHER'S DAY, and it is a most appropriate time to share with you these letters which I received from readers. The first was sent to me from a proud father in Norwalk, Ohio. It was the first letter he received from his G.I. son. . . one of seven to serve our country, with two more to go. He wrote: Verdin, France

"Hi, Dad:

"I received your letter the other day, but have been too tired to answer until now. I still am, but here goes:

"Dad, you have no idea what it means to get a letter from you. I know you think of me, but it is good to see it in writing. I want you to know that I think of you as well as Mom and my wife, all the time. I pray for you all every night. The only thing that keeps me going is knowing that we will all be together again.

"I guess the reason your letters mean so much to me is because they are so few and far between. I just can't explain the feeling I get when I read a letter from you, Dad. It just tears me apart.

"I guess I am just sentimental. Or maybe it's because we never said much to each other before. I feel that your letters bring us closer together. Anyway, I want you to know school, and that was very short-that I think you are O.K. and I am proud that you are my dad. When anybody would ask me, 'Are you Ed Brutsche's boy?' I'd say, 'Yea, I sure am!'

"This is my first letter to you and you alone, Dad. I am even putting it in a separate envelope because it is worth eight cents to let my father know that I love him and miss him very much.

"And that's it.

"Your Sentimental Son, Pink"

DEAR ABBY: Please do me a favor or print the enclosed portion of a letter I received from my son, a wonderful boy who has been neglected by his father for all of his 19 years. My son is away at college. His father reads your column. Maybe he will see it and recognize himself as I could not bring myself to show him his son's letter.

A BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER . . . I hope to God I never turn out to be the kind of man my father is. If I do, I want someone to shoot me. Do you realize that I have actually lived in the same house with a man for 19 years and he never once sat down and talked to me, or took me anywhere, or showed any interest in me, except for football my last year in high school. Anyway, I want you to know school, and that was very short-

Anyway, I want you to know school, and that was very short-lived? You should see the letters some of these boys get from their fathers. You should hear them talk about the places they've gone, and the things they've done with their fathers. How am I supposed to know how to treat a son if I ever get married? I've never been shown any love by my father. I don't even know how a father is supposed to act. Do you realize that I have missed half the fun of growing up because my father never looked at me? If he had been dead for the past 15 years it wouldn't have made any difference. There are some things a mother can't give her children. Especially if they are boys. I've missed all that and I'll never forgive my father for it. Maybe you should have pushed him a little harder, Mom. I don't know. I only know that it's too late for me, but it's not too late for my brother. See if you can't talk to him, Mom. I don't want Johnny to grow up wondering what it's like to have a father's love. That's half a boy's education. Don't let Johnny miss it, Mom. PLEASE."

Boss Bum Word But Can't Find New One

By GAY PAULEY

(UPI Women's Editor)
NEW YORK (UPI) — The term "the boss" wins no popularity contests with those he bosses, but it's apparently destined to remain part of the language.

Secretaries and other white collar people proved greatly at a loss for a new word for boss in a national contest to select another title.

Oh there were such labels as captain, major, general, skipper, commander. The chief was first choice of more than hundred contestants.

One secretary said that "my boss is an angel, but that name would not be appropriate."

Then there were those with a dim view of their superiors who came up with suggestions like big brother, the authoritarian, illustrious leader, comrade and the whip.

New Name

The efforts to find another moniker for the man in charge were the idea of today's secretary, a trade publication. Results are in the current issue.

The publication did declare two Georgia business teachers winners for their tongue-in-cheek offering. And it commented that "in the overwhelming majority of letters we got, the word boss didn't win any popularity contests. It was viewed as 'harsh,' 'crude,' 'awkward,' 'desecrated,' to mention only a few of the comments."

Then the editors concluded, "but much as you may or may not abhor

THE TOPLESS SWIMSUIT—With a hazy background of the Golden Gate Bridge (who's looking?) a model displays one of those new topless swimsuits in San Francisco, and who left that leg up there! And in an Allentown, Pa., department store Mrs. Joanne Roberts contemplates one. They are wool knit trunks and two suspender-like straps, same color. All you need is $25, nerve, relaxation of beach ordinances.

it, we're still stuck with that same old word—boss."

Some contestants turned to other languages for help and offered anti-French for friend and master German for master. Executive, director, supervisor and manager were mentioned.

(Winning Entry)
As for that winning entry, it came from Polly J. Trexler and Charles K. Tyre, of Clarksville, Ga., who wrote:

"Now everything is numbered from the cradle to the grave;
"The boss is no exception and neither is his slave.
"So rather than bluing term 'boss,' we thought we'd number HIM.
"And this would be his coded name on a key punch IBM.
"12-2, 11-6, 0-2, 0-2 is 'boss' the long way around.
"Just add these up—get 35—now that's a shorter sound.
"So call him anything you like;

your ally, helmsman, friend;
"OUR boss is 'dear old 35'—for that's the latest trend."

GIVE a girl a woman's job—it's a man's job, too, for that matter—and how does she do it?

The answer, according to Mrs. Holton R. Price, Jr., national president of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A., is wonderfully well.

Man-Size Job

Mrs. Price recently returned from a North Atlantic tour of TOFS. The initials stand for Troops (Girl Scout Troops) On Foreign Soil and, according to Mrs. Price, they're doing a man-size job in spreading good will for our country abroad.

TOFS, and there are some 30,000 in 1400 troops, are ambassadors without portfolio who are engaged in people-to-people, girl-to-girl activities that are making friends for the U. S. in 52 countries.

Military And Civilian

About three-quarters of TOFS members are daughters of military personnel stationed abroad. The remaining one-quarter are children of civilian families abroad on government, business, educational or religious assignments.

Ranging in age from 7 through 17, these good scouts are participating in an exciting exchange program. It's an exchange of ideas, says Mrs. Price. TOFS learn about the holidays, customs, dances, songs and food of the country in which they're living even as they're spreading the word about American traditions.

"You have no idea," said Mrs. Price, "how exciting it is to see this program in action or how much good will it is creating abroad."

Wherever and whenever possible, TOFS units work out joint camping, social or educational activities with local girls' groups. They also originate a variety of helping-hand projects that make them very welcome indeed.

In Spain, for example, TOFS units collected food, clothing and bedding for victims during the Seville floods.

In Germany, a troop took on the job of serving as English-speaking guides during week end tours of the Schloss, former home of the Kings of Wurtemberg.

Brownies Aid Babies

Brownies in Newfoundland adopted the Cottage Hospital and spent their spare time collecting clothes for infants born there.

At Subic Bay in the Philippines TOFS discovered that a Filipino school had no library, so they started one. Tokyo TOFS gave a party for blind students at a Japanese school.

TOFS in Saigon collected clothes for refugees who had fled guerrillas.

Pledged To Help

Around the globe, the story is the same, Mrs. Price reports. Like their sister scouts in the U. S. A., TOFS are pledged to do their duty for God and country and to help others at all times.

Even as these good scouts are showing people abroad an impressive picture of young Americans in action, they're learning, through TOFS activities, how others live and think.

It's an experience that is making them better Americans and better citizens of the world in which we live.

TOFS IN HEIDELBERG had the chief, Mrs. Holton R. Price, Girl Scout President, on steps of the famous Schloss.

Blankenship Circle Meets At Home Of Mrs. Cunningham

The Blankenship Circle of the South Pleasant Grove Methodist Church met Thursday, June 11, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening in the home of Mrs. Ted Cunningham.

An interesting program and discussion on the theme of "Inter Faith Cooperation" was led by Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. Jackie Butterworth, Mrs. Ted Cunningham, Mrs. Noel Buchanan, Mrs. Bruce Wilson, and Mrs. Kent Simpson.

Other members present were Mrs. Billy Erwin, Mrs. James Rogers, Mrs. James Dale Erwin, Mrs. L. D. Cook, Jr., Misses Jean, Jane, and Joan Cooper.

Refreshments of cakes and cake were served by Mrs. James Rogers and Mrs. Cunningham.

The July meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Rogers.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Larry McGuire of Los Angeles, California will visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shoemaker, College Farm Road, for about two months this summer while her husband, an engineering student, attends a summer seminar at a West Coast university. She is expected to arrive on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Erwin of Louisville are visiting their cousins Marvin Bourland of Brewers, Mrs. Frank Erwin of Hardin, Mr. Erwin formerly from the county has lived in Louisville for 45 years. They have returned from a vacation in New York, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls, N.Y., and visited his son, John Wesley Erwin of Rochester, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Aussie Pool and their son, James Pool, of Royal Oak, Mich., are visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stone and Mr. and Mrs. Acree Miller.

Mrs. Paul Lynn Is Hostess For Meet Of Women's Group

The Women's Association of College Presbyterian Church met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Paul Lynn, president of the group. Mrs. Robert Jones was the assisting hostess.

Mrs. Charles Crawford opened the meeting with prayer. During the business session plans were formulated for the annual Luncheon of the Association to be held July 20. This year the menu and program theme will be "India," and there will be an exhibit of articles from South Asian countries. There will also be a booth of articles for sale which have been donated by the members. Plans were also announced for the dedication of the Summer Medical Offering.

The evening's program topic was "The Church and Senior Highs" and was presented by Mrs. Jack Belote.

The hostesses served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Here's the Latest

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

HOUSEWARES and appliance departments are always fascinating. Right now they're more so than ever, thanks to a variety of new products that perform in novel and effective ways.

The following are new and noteworthy.

Two-Way Wonder: A new fryer that turns out crisp waffles with a Florentine design also converts to a sandwich toaster or grill. It has a surprisingly large grilling surface because both sides of the appliance rest flat to cook bacon, small steaks or burgers.

When used for frying, a small spout permits fat to run off into a cup provided for drippings.

Other features include a signal light and stay-cool plastic handles.

Built-In Look: An electric range-oven that can be stacked on a standard cabinet has a built-in look but eliminates high built-in costs.

The appliance offers a range, oven, hood-fan, splash plate and illuminated panel with eye-level controls for all heat, light and ventilation.

Closed-door broiling is made possible by a ventilating system that's built into the oven.

High-Style Barbecue Grill: California redwood is used for the work shelf, towel bar and utility shelf of a new motorized brazier that's finished in metallic red. It has a swing-out motor which keeps the chef's hands from exposure to the heat of the coals while he's manipulating the roast or bird.

Other convenience features include a positive locking

THERE'S A BUILT-IN look to a new self-ventilated range-oven that can be placed on a counter top. For convenience, both the oven and range controls are arranged at eye level.

ratchet grid adjuster, a nickel-plated steel oven hood with glass-paneled oven door and a temperature indicator.

A utility cart with matching redwood shelves is available.

Gourmet Trays: Food fanciers will enjoy some new multi-ply laminated tray designs. One, for example, features old cookbook recipes and illustrations in gay colors.

Another shows a melon slices, mushrooms, beets and kitchen shears in realistic colors imposed on a black and white background.

A Record Pole: A floor-to-ceiling pole provides something new in record storage. It has three racks in which you can store albums.

Shampoo-Buffer: A handy small appliance that can be used to foam up and clean furniture or automobile upholstery, it also has a buffing pad attachment for polishing table tops.

Sag-Resistant Mattress: Reinforced borders, made with a new kind of steel wire that's more resilient and stronger, help a new mattress keep its shape, even if people sit on the edges. Available in six sizes, the mattress is covered with a soft fabric that has a snowflake pattern.

Carry-Home Cooler: Reducing makes a new air conditioner noteworthy. Its price has been reduced—and so has its size. It can be plugged into any standard household outlet and has a permanent washable filter plus a two-speed fan with high-cool and night-cool settings. It will provide enough night-cool comfort for a bedroom that's 12 by 16 feet.
